Finance Leadership Development Program (FLDP) Thames Valley, UK with European Rotations

The Financial Leadership Development Program is a two year program designed to successfully develop you into a future business leader of the Johnson & Johnson finance organization.

As a FLDP participant, you will complete two, twelve month rotational assignments. This gives you the potential to gain experience in a range of financial functions, across different industry sectors and within an international environment.

These assignments are supplemented by six weeks of formal training over the course of the two-year program which takes place in the US and across Europe. Training covers in-depth leadership, technical skills and other skills and competencies that are critical to success in Johnson & Johnson. Regular coaching and feedback will also be central to your continued development.

Attaining a Professional Accounting qualification will be actively encouraged and we will give you financial assistance and paid study leave to support you through this.

To be a successful candidate, you will need:

- 2.1 Business related degree (Finance, Accounting, Management, Economics)
- Less than 2 years of business experience
- Technical aptitude, strong interpersonal, analytical and problem solving skills
- Willingness to relocate (including locations outside of the UK)
- To demonstrate talent and drive
- Be available to join no later than 1st June 2010
- Be eligible to work in the EU
- Closing date for applications – Monday 22nd March 2010

- Please apply online:
